Italia Mia Mistress Dies at 87

Miss Thomasella Hardeman Graham, one of Sierra Madre's best-known citizens, died Tuesday following a lingering illness. She was 87 years old.

A Sierra Madrean for the last 50 years, Miss Graham built the famous Italia Mia at 457 N. Lima, which was bordered by Cypress and Irish Yew trees.

The mansion, scene of numerous social functions during Miss Graham's residency, was sold about 12 years ago, later resold and the lot subdivided. For the past several years, Miss Graham lived at 349 N. Lima.

She was a well-known horticulturist and in the 1930s won first prize for outstanding achievement in home grounds beautification. The prize was awarded by the Yard and Garden Association of America in a nationwide contest.

A native of Pinewood, Tenn., Miss Graham was a member of the Church of the Ascension, St. Catherine's Guild, the Dickens Fellowship. She also was a life member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a charter member of the Pasadena Garden Club.

Miss Graham for many years also was a member of the City Planning Commission and was widely respected for work in helping beautify the city.

She is survived by a niece, Jessica Graham (Mrs. Edward D.) Schneider, of Lake

'Tarb' Draeger Tours Europe Via Bare Feet

Richard "Tarb" Draeger, 19, is touring Europe in blue jeans, bare feet and a new Goliath car, according to word received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Draeger, 78 Esperanza.

"Tarb" left the middle of June with the Stanford crew for shell races in the East. In New York he met a sophomore classmate, Don Case of Reedley, Calif., and the pair boarded ship for Rotterdam.

They were met by the Jack Dunning, former Sierra Madrean, who provided a welcome and the Goliath.

The boys are on their way to Switzerland to meet the father of Sierra Madrean Hans Gutierrez.

Plans are afoot for them to join Severin Sorensen Jr. in Copenhagen, then through Scandinavia, then to England, and start home by Aug. 26.

MISS KOREA of the recent Miss Universe contest in Long Beach was in Sierra Madre Tuesday getting her hair styled at the Petite Beauty Salon. The 21-year-old Yuan Ok Park, of Seoul, is visiting Mrs. Edward Griffith, 306 Lola Ave., Pasadena, whose son, Capt. C. G. Grant, chief pilot for the Korea National Airlines, arranged for Miss Yuan's trip to the beauty pageant. Miss Yuan, a hostess for the airline, is shown with Lolita Stedman, owner of the salon.

PROBABLY THE NEAREST thing to the "old swimming hole" within 1,000 miles of Sierra Madre is the old canyon pool which opened last week for the first and last time. The old pool was put back into service because the strike of plumbers and hodcarriers delayed work on the new pool in the city water grounds on E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Dismiss Traffic Case; Cars Wrong Color

Judge Joseph A. Sprinkle sitting in Pasadena Municipal Court last week upset the apple-green police car by ordering acquittal of a Sierra Madre man, charged with speeding, because of the color of the local police patrol car.

In what would appear to have been an ordinary arrest for excessive speed, Sierra Madre police brought charges against Lowell Francis Hendershot, 48, owner of Lowell's Auto Service, 345 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., on Sunday, June 30.

The charge was driving at a speed of 40 miles per hour on Mountain Trail in a 25-mile zone.

Mr. Hendershot obtained an attorney, Jack Tenney, former state senator, now practicing law in Glendale.

MR. TENNEY advised him to plead not guilty and hearing was set for July 29 before Judge Sprinkle.

At that time arresting officer K. B. Bassett testified that while on duty, he observed, checked and arrested Mr. Hendershot for excessive speed. He then testified that the police car which he was driving was entirely green in color.

With that, Attorney Tenney moved for acquittal of Hendershot on the grounds that Officer Bassett was incompetent as a witness under Section 752(b) of the State Vehicle Code.

This section states that officers shall be found incompetent witnesses if at the time of arrest they are not wearing full distinctive uniform or are using a motor vehicle not painted the distinctive color specified by the (State Highway Patrol) commissioner.

Judge Sprinkle ordered acquittal.

GIMMICK in the case is this: Section 750 of the Vehicle Code states that every member of the California Highway Patrol and every other peace officer who is on duty for the exclusive and main purpose of enforcing the provisions of Division 9 of the code (this section governs traffic laws including speeding, reckless driving, drunk driving, etc.) shall wear a full distinctive uniform and if such officer while so on duty uses a motor vehicle, such vehicle must be painted a distinctive color specified by the commissioner.

The color specified by the commissioner is black and white. Sierra Madre police cars are apple green.

Will Sierra Madre traffic arrests be nullified by the judge's interpretation? Will officers in apple green cars continue to make traffic arrests?

POLICE CHIEF Gordon G. McMillan stated his position yesterday to The News:

"Sierra Madre has two radio patrol cars. These vehicles are used for general police functions as well as patrolling the city for the purpose of over-all law enforcement and crime prevention, including traffic law enforcement.

"Neither of these vehicles is used for, nor are the officers who operate them on duty for, the exclusive or main purpose of enforcing the provisions of Division 9 of the Vehicle Code.

"Section 750 of the Code has been in effect for many years and because of language used in the statute, 'on duty for exclusive or main purpose' of enforcing traffic laws, it has been interpreted as and generally administered as excluding vehicles which are used for general police duties and not principally for traffic law enforcement.

"Sierra Madre is only one of many cities which is using police vehicles not painted black and white, but which are used incidentally in traffic law enforcement.

Memorial Fund Started to Honor Gordon R. Young

A group of Sierra Madre boys and girls, all 15 or 16 years old, are raising a memorial fund to be given City of Hope hospital for research in leukemia.

The dread disease struck down one of their close friends Gordon Young, who died July 28 after only three days illness.

First project is a car wash to be held August 17 at the Associated station on Michillinda. The space has been donated and car-wash fees of $1 go to the fund.

Lillian Guttman is heading the group which includes Nino Leonardi, Dennis DeCicco, B. J. Cole, Toddy Draeger, Larry and Gary Boscovitch and Mil Heim.

Woolworth's To Build in Nearby Area

F. W. Woolworth Co. announced today plans to locate a store in the new Hastings Ranch Shopping Center at Foothill and Rosemead Boulevards, about a mile southwest of downtown Sierra Madre.

Construction work is scheduled to start this summer and opening date is tentatively set for early spring of 1958.

C. M. Dale, Woolworth's West Coast Manager, said the new store, which will be a one-story structure containing 15,000 square feet, will be completely air-conditioned and equipped with the most modern fixtures available.

The new Woolworth's will feature a lunch counter with facilities to seat 30 and a large garden and pet shop carrying growing plants and a complete line of gardening and pet supplies.

In keeping with the latest trend in variety store merchandising, the new Woolworth's will be set up on a self-service basis.

An off-street parking area is available in the center which will accommodate 2100 cars.

Dale said the new Woolworth's will employ an estimated 30 people.

Board Tables Request For Released Time

16,000 Hunters-- 225 Deer

Deer season opened with the traditional bang in the Los Angeles Forest last weekend when about 16,000 hunters tracked down and disposed of 225 bucks.

Among lucky hunters who bagged a deer is Lester R. Anthony, 248 San Gabriel Ct., who downed a 125-pound buck.

R. F. Droegge, forest supervisor, estimated that there were about 8,000 hunters combing the mountains on Saturday, the opening day, and nearly as many on Sunday.

THE BIG PINES-Blue Ridge and Liebre-Sawmill Mountain areas were the most popular with sportsmen, Mr. Droegge said, and also produced the most deer.

"Although the fire danger was very high," Mr. Droegge said, "we had only one fire which we feel was probably caused by a hunter. It burned three acres on Pleasant View Ridge and was quickly controlled by the air tankers, helicopter and hot-shot fire crews."

Meanwhile, back at the Los Angeles County Optometric Association, it was reported that one of every 12 hunters is color blind and that 13 per cent lack adequate lateral vision. In other words, they can't see much on either side.

RECOMMENDATION from the association:

"Zero in your eyes as well as your shotgun before you set out on that hunting trip."

SULANKE IN SEATTLE

Robert J. Sulanke, fire control technician first class, U.S.N., husband of the former Miss Louise E. Osti, 271 N. Grove, Sierra Madre, aboard the destroyer USS Arnold J. Isbell, will visit Seattle, Wash., Aug. 7-12, during the annual Sea Fair.

Live, Lethal Hand Grenade Leaves—Whew!

A live hand grenade, "fully loaded and potentially deadly," was removed from Sierra Madre and its environs Friday by two Army Ordnance sergeants from Ft. McArthur.

W. A. Bodor, 71 E. Bonita, called police Thursday after he discovered the grenade in bushes on his property. Police found part of the firing assembly broken off, but the detonator still inside. Using precautions, the deadly little explosive was placed in a cement vault at the City Yards and the Army contacted.

The ordnance experts pronounced it alive and lethal, took it away. Gently.

None of Speakers Favors Program

A request for a released time program for religious education in the schools here was tabled by the Sierra Madre Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

The action followed a lengthy discussion of the subject by members of the audience, none of whom spoke in favor of released time.

The motion to table was made by Newell Barrett and seconded by Hugh Colvin. The vote was unanimous. Board President Kenneth Bush was absent.

BEFORE making his motion, Mr. Barrett said:

"Up to this point we have not had one request from a single parent for a released time program. Until such time as a program is requested by a group of parents, we should not take any action. I think we would be way off base if we took action now."

Among those speaking in opposition to released time were G. Norman Kennedy, 521 E. Orange Grove, an attorney who was a candidate for the School Board during the last election; Deb Watts, 445 E. Highland, and Don Pope.

Mr. Kennedy, who prefaced his comments with the opinion, added:

"Our public schools must be secular. Our heritage is one of separation of church and state."

"Religion is a responsibility of the church and home. If the church hasn't met its responsibility I don't think it can pass that responsibility onto the schools."

A released time program, he said, would be divisive, is coercive in nature, unfair to the children and to individual dignity and would take from the school badly needed time to educate.

MR. WATTS said he made a survey of released time programs in surrounding cities and came to the conclusion that religion is an extremely important part of education and that attendance in church classes dwindles with time.

Pasadena—the 4th, 5th and 6th grades—maintains an attendance record of about 60 per cent, he said; Alhambra, 45 to 55 per cent.

He said he was informed

Chop Suey, a la Bouvier, Will Delight Your Palate

By Toni Maurin—SY. 7-9634

Although Mrs. George A. (Erdine) Bouvier, 438 E. Montecito, has a full-time job as a medical typist and secretary in Pasadena, she still finds time to try out new recipes in her kitchen and keep up with the old. Even, as she puts it, if the spring cleaning has to wait for awhile.

Her chop suey recipe is a delight to eat and simple to prepare.

CHOP SUEY

- 2 1/2 lbs. round steak, trimmed and diced
- 4 tbs. fat
- 1 cup water
- 3 medium sized onions, cut in pieces
- 1 large can mushrooms, drained
- 3 or 4 pork chops
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1 large bunch celery, cut in pieces
- 3 cans bean sprouts, drained
- 1 can water chestnuts, sliced

Brown meat in hot fat, leave pork chops whole. Add soy sauce and water, and simmer for a few minutes. Add celery and onions and simmer covered for one hour or until tender. Remove pork chops. (She saves the pork chops till the next day and serves with fried rice.)

Add bean sprouts, mushrooms and water chestnuts, and simmer for five more minutes. Serve over rice or chow mein noodles. Salted blanched almonds sprinkled on top add a final bit of flavor and a party touch.

CHICKEN LIVERS WITH RICE

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 lbs. fresh chicken livers (one-inch pieces)
- 1 can each condensed cream of chicken and cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
- 2 tbs. fresh parsley, chopped
- 2 pks. pre-cooked rice
- 1 med. sized onion, minced
- 1 cup milk

1 generous pinch dried basil Seasoned flour

Saute onion in two tbs. butter and add to cooked rice. Roll chicken livers in seasoned flour (seasoned to taste with salt and pepper), and saute in remaining butter until browned on all sides. Combine livers, rice, soups, milk, parsley and basil. Put in buttered casserole and bake for about 35 minutes at 375° F. until bubbly. This may be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated until ready to bake.

A nice salad to accompany this meal is one made with lemon jell-o, avocado, grapefruit sections, and a little horse radish added to jell-o and molded.

MRS. BOUVIER was born in Chicago. After she was married she and her husband lived for a while in Minneapolis, before moving to California. They then traveled East again to live in New Jersey for 10 years, just one hour from Times Square. They moved back here and have been in Sierra Madre for the past 10 years.

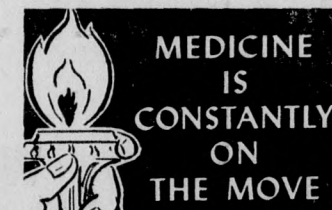

During all of this moving around they have visited all but seven of the 48 states.

They have two sons, Robert, an airman at Luke Air Force Base in the Air Training Command, and Scott, who is going into the ninth grade at Marshall. Mr. Bouvier is an engineer.

Zeuschners Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zeuschner, 661 W. Orange Grove, and their son, Bud, recently returned from a seven-week visit in the East.

It was a combination business and pleasure trip. The Zeuschners took advantage of the opportunity to visit relatives in Illinois and Wisconsin.

FIRE FLAMES

By James Heasley
Fire Chief

Towns built before the days of building regulations suffer great loss when a fire starts. Structures made of poor materials, light wood and thin walls are susceptible to fire that better built houses and stores will resist.

Fortunately for us in Sierra Madre, most of the business area is now made of buildings with walls of great fire protection. Good partitions of fire resistant materials can be the difference between a tragic fire and one of low loss.

FIREMEN KNOW the importance of preventing a hot fire from continuing from one building to another, and much effort toward this end is practiced. Readers of this column must have read of the fate of San Rafael a short time ago. A fire spread rapidly, consuming much of the business section.

Stores, homes and factories should always be alert for fire. There are many fires that could have been stopped by some simple maneuver of those who happen to be near. Fire extinguishers are valuable for the small fire. They must be used correctly for best results. Extinguishers are not meant to smother large areas and certain types should not be used on oil or grease fires. DO NOT USE WATER ON OIL OR GREASE.

The good old garden hose attached to the outside faucet can do a lot of good if applied early to an outdoor fire or one of wood, etc. The time between hunting the hose and dragging it to a standpipe may be the time needed to prevent the fire from getting out of control.

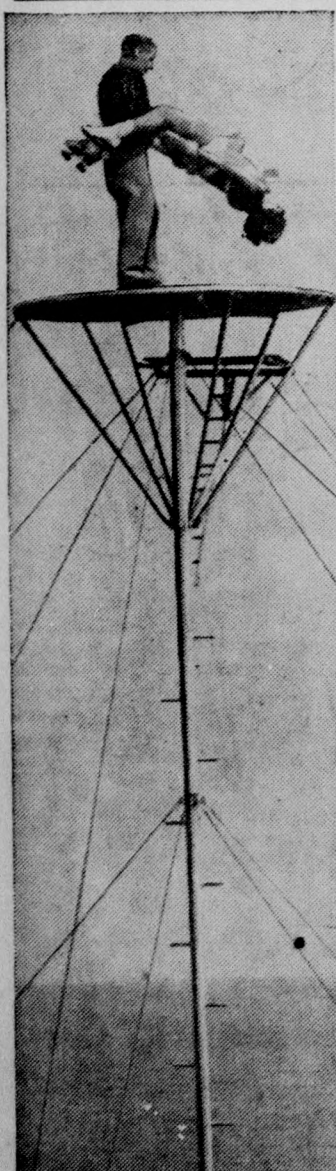

BEFORE DOING all this, make certain that someone is calling the Fire Department. We don't mind arriving to find the fire out. That we like. We do hate to add to our fire loss when we meet a tragic or serious blaze.

Fighting fires is the business of the firemen, but we still maintain that putting the fire out before it gets started is the best way to lick 'em. In order to do this we have to remind residents that it is dangerous to permit inflammable materials to pile up in the yard or about the house and garage.

Small fires are easily conquered, while large ones will sometimes burn out and turn much of value into ashes. KEEP THE FIRES OUT AND THROW THE OLD TRASH AWAY.

STRINGS ATTACHED When you get a chance to buy things for a song it's a good idea to check the accompaniment.

If you are determined to live and die the slave of habit, try to cultivate good ones.

Roller skating in the sky. Bob Top and Lauren combine skill and daredevilry in a petrifying display high in the air. This sensational act will be among many on the program to thrill thousands at the big 13th Annual Sheriffs Rodeo in the Los Angeles Coliseum on August 18.

Local Tie Firm One of Largest

By Marjorie Parker

Skipping what the governor of North and South Carolina said to one another, what did Tony Cavalli, Chamber of Commerce secretary, say to Jim Wolfie, owner of Youngland?

He said, "That's a good-looking necktie, Jim."

And Jim said, "Thanks, I bought it in my home town, Charleston, West Virginia."

He flipped the tie over to show the Charleston department store label and Tony leaned over to read it. Then he laughed.

"Maybe you bought it in West Virginia, friend, but your necktie was made in Sierra Madre."

JIM WAS as startled as any Sierra Madread upon encountering the fact that Richley of California, quietly and neatly housed at 37 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., is one of the largest manufacturers of men's neckwear on the West Coast.

Morris Spitzer, who with Ralph Cohen, owns the business, said:

"In units manufactured and in dollar value we rank with the biggest manufacturers on the Coast."

Salesmen represent us in the 11 Western states and through the central buying offices of the national buying chains, our goods are sold in larger stores throughout the United States.

Ten years ago, the two men, who had been in the neckwear business in Erie, Pa., started making ties in the garage of Spitzer's house at 205 N. Sunnyside.

TODAY, in the 5,000 square feet of well-lighted, well-ventilated building that opens up behind their modest street front, Richley employs 25 women, almost all Sierra Madreads, to turn out thousands of ties a week.

Mr. Spitzer buys the fabrics for the firm—and this is a creative process, since the styling of a tie depends on its material. Tie fabrics are woven especially for the trade by Eastern mills where designers work on forms and spacing suitable only for neckties.

California manufacturers, Mr. Spitzer said, are quicker to try out new ideas and novelties, but otherwise men noose themselves up in the same sort of necktie the country over. Woven jacquards are most popular at the moment.

Starting from the rear of the building, the liner cutter comes first. Then there are long tables where women cut the fabrics on what appears to be the bias. The material and the liner are stitched together on the inside, the tie completed inside out and sent to a woman and a machine that nimbly turns it outside out.

NEXT COME the pressers who iron the tie into shape, then the sorters and the packers. And right now the packers are busy because Richley of California is in the midst of fall production, will begin shipping the end of this month.

Mr. Spitzer, who has moved to Arcadia with his wife and two children, is in charge of general sales and management. Mr. Cohen lives at 177 N. Sunnyside with his three-children family, directs production and factory operation.

And that's Richley of California. Now you know.

Names Sought On Parochial Tax

More than 400,000 signatures to an initiative constitutional amendment restoring property of parochial, sectarian, or denominational schools to the tax rolls have already been filed in 58 California counties, John A. Owen, chairman of the Californians for Public Schools, has announced. Voters will cast ballots on the proposed amendment in 1958.

Critic Sees Four Reeps And One Chuan at Exhibit

By Don Roberts
Member Exhibits Committee,
Friends of the Library

It was announced that teacher Edward Reep and former students—Alan Wood, Bob Uechers, Lucille Stafford and Norma Chuan—would be exhibiting watercolors in the Sierra Madre Library Gallery from Sunday on. Therefore, it was a surprise to walk in on what appeared to be a two-man show.

There were the works of Reep, and there were some paintings by Norma Chuan.

On the Reep side of the show I found two paintings worth mentioning. One—a technically sound rendering of an old locomotive signed by Alan Wood, and, two, an intense semi-abstract based on seaweed, signed by Bob Uechers.

This echo type of painting leaves me a little terrified since I also question the original noise that created the echo. Reep has shown better work in the past (e.g., his Sierra Madre Library Purchase Award and Airport Series in Life), and will probably produce better in the future. But his watercolors here were not impressive to me.

I glimpsed a curious individuality in a black and white drawing done by Norma Chuan. In contrast to the colored technical display, her drawing maintained itself with a singular integrity.

It occurs to me that while it may be a weakness on the part of an instructor to create students who mimic his own efforts, it may also be an even greater weakness on the part of the students that they have never gone beyond the original inspiration.

However, personal opinion to the side, the exhibit has been well received and probably will continue to be enjoyed during its stay. It has warmth and color and a hit-and-miss vitality that will pique many viewers into making their own criticisms.

PROBLEMATICAL

People the world over are beginning to wonder whether splitting the atom was a wise crack.

Rev. R. E. Hansen Continues Survey; Seeks Church Site

This is a church-going community. That is the finding of the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, United Lutheran pastor who is making a home-to-home religious survey preparatory to establishing a new church here.

"We are happy to find a much higher percentage of church-going people per block than is usually prevalent in our mission fields," the new pastor said. "We are also meeting our share of Lutherans and unchurched families who are interested in having a strong United Lutheran congregation in the community."

Rev. Hansen plans to continue his surveywork several months in order to reach every home. Lutheran worship and Sunday school will begin in the Fall.

"We will gather temporarily in a centrally-located meeting place while we negotiate for a spacious church site," he said. "We will build a beautiful edifice that will be an asset to the community."

Messages for Rev. Hansen may be phoned to The Sierra Madre News.

NEW DIVISION
Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp. has established an Analytical and Control Instrument Division, it was announced yesterday by Hugh F. Colvin, president. Harold F. Wiley, director of the company's Technical Services Department the past four years, was appointed director of the new division, which will consolidate company activities in the design, development, and manufacture of analytical and control electronic instruments.

New Book on Theology
Is Final Townshend Work

By Marjorie Torres

"Christ and Baha'u'llah," the final work of an outstanding theologian, has been added to the books on the Baha'i faith donated to the Sierra Madre Public Library by the Baha'i Group of Sierra Madre.

"Christ and Baha'u'llah" is the last and culminating work of George Townshend, a religious scholar known by two earlier works, "The Promise of All Ages," and "The Heart of the Gospel." The author died at his home in Ireland in April of this year.

For some years Cannon of St. Patrick's Cathedral in Dublin, Mr. Townshend retired from clerical orders to concentrate on studying the evolution of revealed faith.

UNSATISFIED with the traditional claim that each world faith was a unique and final revelation from God, the author examined the Old and New Testament prophecies, the Qur'an of the Moslems, and finally the writings of Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i Faith which arose during the middle of the 19th century.

Mr. Townshend's conclusion was that a common purpose animated all Scriptures—assurance of the final establishment of righteousness and peace throughout the world.

His final work poses a twofold question for sincere believers in any of the holy books: Is the promise of the Kingdom literally true, and, if so, when is it to be fulfilled?

The challenge of "Christ and Baha'u'llah" is that it not only finds the promise valid, but points out abundant evidence that the fulfillment has been operating during the past 100 years.

Its power, Mr. Townshend states, is even now in command of international events. He also sees a great climax of strife signaling the breakdown of the principle of isolation in religious as well as political and economic realms, and the rise of interdependence as the condition of human survival.

OUT OF interdependence the author depicts the rise of a new world order, the animating spirit of which is the Baha'i teachings on the unity of God, the unity of His prophets, and the unity of mankind.

Mr. Townshend laments the failure of traditional denominations to foster hope in the repeated assurance of the prophets that the Day of God will come, as well as their inability to read the signs of the times in this era of world wars, revolutions, the decay of faith and a prevalent materialism.

LESSON SERMON

"Spirit" is the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. Paul affirms in the Golden Text from 1st Corinthians (2:12), "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is God."

LUTHERAN MISSION
BELL

APPEALING FOR YOU Greetings! This certainly is a friendly community in which to establish a new church. In more than 250 homes already visited, this pastor has been received very cordially. Not one door has been shut in my face. Our survey is proving our community has a higher average of church-going people than elsewhere in California. Still, we are finding our share of Lutherans and unchurched families who are enthused over the mission.

There is no greater joy than being with a church from the start, helping it grow and build to the glory of God's Kingdom! Folks ask when we will begin services. That will be this Fall. We will gather in a temporary meeting place for Sunday school and worship while we acquire a spacious church site. Meantime, we appreciate your active interest in the mission and prayers for success.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY—"If God be for us, who can be against us?" Those are words of the Apostle Paul, the great missionary. He died for Christianity. Caesar was a powerful ruler of the Roman empire in the same era. Today we still honor Paul by naming our sons after him, but we name our dogs Caesar!

Yours Faithfully,
REV. RAY E. HANSEN
United Lutheran Pastor
—Adv.

Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Marjorie Torres, 310 Old Ranch Rd., and Mr. McCormack.

Faith Lutheran
To Receive Twelve
New Members

In the 10:30 Sunday service at Faith Lutheran Chapel, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive, 12 adults will be received into the communicant membership of the congregation.

Some members of this group have completed the church-membership study session conducted by the pastor on Monday evenings, while others will join the congregation through reaffirmation of the faith or by transfer of their membership.

In this service, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated, with the adult confirmands receiving their first Communion.

As his Sunday morning sermon topic, the Rev. A. Hesse has chosen "A Wise Use of Your Time."

A special prayer will be spoken during the Sunday Worship Hour for the Rev. Jerrold Swanson, a member of the congregation, who on Sunday afternoon will be ordained into the Lutheran ministry at Sioux Rapids, Iowa, and be installed as pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in that city. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Swanson, he resided on Montecito Avenue in Sierra Madre five years ago.

At 9:15 on Sunday morning, the Sunday School departments will be shown another in a series of films which aim to help children solve their problems. The Bible classes are currently engaged in a joint study of the Book of Ruth.

Wesley Film
At Bethany
August 14

The life story of John Wesley, the leading figure in the religious world during the 18th Century, will be portrayed in a 77-minute film at Bethany Church, on Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 8 p.m.

The story begins with John's dramatic rescue during a fire in the rectory and recounts the events that led up to his missionary journey to Georgia, and his seeking for an experience that would satisfy his searching soul.

Produced by J. Arthur Rank, the film has already been widely heralded for its authenticity and dramatic portrayal. The title role is played by Leonard Sachs and the film is in Eastman color.

As a social reformer John Wesley had no peer, as a circuit preacher he traveled more than a quarter of a million miles on horseback and stagecoach and in 53 years in the ministry preached about 50,000 sermons, and founded a movement which for two centuries was noted for its evangelical fervor.

Methodists Hear
Talk on Baha'i

Approximately 100 members of the Questers group of the First Methodist Church of Monrovia last Sunday morning heard Mrs. F. Joseph McCormack of Sierra Madre speak on the Baha'i World Faith.

Her address was fourth in a series of various religions. Mrs. McCormack spoke on one of the basic tenets of the Baha'i Faith, "Unity and the Oneness of the World of Humanity."

Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Marjorie Torres, 310 Old Ranch Rd., and Mr. McCormack.

Electric cooking keeps more juice in baked ham—because it's flameless!

When you cook electrically there's no draft of constantly changing air because there's no flame. (Flame, you see, needs air to breathe. So a flame-heated oven constantly inhales dry air, exhales moist air—literally cooks meat in a hot draft that evaporates good juices.) In an electric oven there's no draft of dry air. You cook with moist heat. As a result, more juice stays in the meat... and the meat tastes better.

Electric cooking is far cooler, too. As much as 16° cooler. The reason is obvious: electric cooking puts the heat directly into the food, not into the room. Electric cooking is cleaner, too, because it's flameless. There are no by-products of combustion to dirty walls and darken your bright pans. Truly, it's the only modern way to cook. Why not see your appliance dealer for a demonstration of the new electric ranges?

Record Set In Sales of $50 Bonds

U.S. Treasury Consultant Howard Mills announced that sale of $50 denomination United Savings Bonds has set a record for the first five months of this year.

The total number of pieces sold reached the figure of 8,758,000, despite the current "tight money" situation.

Sales of the $25 denomination bonds continued at a near record rate, although down somewhat from the periods preceding the "tight money" phase.

Sales of Series E and H bonds in Los Angeles County were $67,710,668 for the first six months of this year; for Southern California for the same six-month period they were $91,702,570.

Money talks—but it always talks loudest when given to charity.

TALK ABOUT ECONOMY...
FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!

Fords cost less to buy!

No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.*

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices

Fords cost less to run!

In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This, remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars... supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all other cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

Fords cost less to trade!

Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!

Your Health...

Moderate Drinking Can Prolong Life Expectancy

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

The central office of the Los Angeles County Medical Association receives many inquiries on health problems. Many of these are from persons seeking information on one of the most formidable health problems facing the nation today—alcoholism.

Following are some of the questions received and answers submitted:

QUESTION—What effect does alcohol have on life expectancy?

ANSWER—Taken intelligently and with discretion, alcohol can prolong life expectancy. It facilitates the transfer from the tempo of a day's work to an evening of relaxation. Even temporary excess or prolonged overdrinking, however, can lead to disaster.

Q—Is alcoholism inherited?

A—The tendency toward alcoholism may be inherited, but the disease itself is not, though frequently the problem drinker will use heredity as an excuse.

Q—Is there anything that can be put into food or drink to cure a chronic drinker?

A—There is nothing that can be put into food or drink with any safety that can cure this disease although a few substances such as ipecac have been tried. Unless there is the complete cooperation of the drinker, nothing like this should be attempted.

Q—Is there a certain amount of alcohol that can be drunk and still make it possible to drive a car safely?

A—There is no safe amount. Even small concentrations of alcohol have a depressant effect upon our central nervous system, resulting in a loss of judgment and coordination.

Q—Is the moderate drinker in danger of becoming an alcoholic?

A—Statistics are in favor of this not occurring, but when a moderate social drinker has some increase of nervous tension and begins to take increasing doses of alcohol to calm this tension, then that might be a warning signal.

Q—Is all alcoholic drinking to be medically condemned?

A—No, alcohol is perhaps the safest of all the sedatives available today and most people take it pretty well. It has certain medical uses, particularly in elderly people. When used in strict moderation it may well be a valuable ingredient in our daily living.

Q—Will drinking alcoholic beverages help prevent catching a cold?

A—No. Although they do act as a source of heat in the body, alcoholic beverages also promote the loss of heat from the body. This latter action is greater than the heat-producing factor with the net result being less protection for the body against reduced temperature than without the alcohol.

Salk Vaccine Cuts Cases at Sister Kenny

The effectiveness of the Salk vaccine has been clearly demonstrated by the decrease in admission of patients suffering from poliomyelitis to the Sister Kenny Memorial Hospital and Rehabilitation Center, El Monte, according to Dr. W. Dean Lindgren, medical adviser to the hospital.

Since January of this year only 22 patients, four of whom were in the sub-acute stage, have been admitted to the medical center in comparison to last year's report of 103 for the same period. None of the patients, all in various age groups, had received Salk vaccine shots.

"This only emphasizes the need for everyone 40 years of age and under to have at least their first vaccine shot before the polio season begins," Dr. Lindgren stated.

"Because of this great decline in poliomyelitis patients, we have been able to increase our admittance of patients suffering from other diseases of the nerve and muscle," he continued.

The Kenny Center, since January of 1956, has admitted, for treatment and rehabilitation over 120 patients afflicted with a variety of neuromuscular diseases.

Erwin Campaign Head Is Named

Al Johns of West Covin, yesterday was named general manager of the campaign to elect Assemblyman Thomas M. Erwin to the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors from the First District.

Erwin, who seeks the seat to be vacated by Supervisor Herbert C. Legg next year, said that Johns, 39-year-old Pasadena publicist, was selected to head the campaign by the Erwin Campaign Committee's steering council.

Garden Notes . . .

Juniper Thrives in Poor Soil, Good Ground Cover

"Laying down on the job" is generally frowned upon. Yet, certain varieties of Juniper accomplish things "laying down" that are impossible for upright shrubs.

Paramount among these accomplishments is the excellent ground cover provided by the coniferous creeper. The Juniper is exceptionally attractive as a ground cover both on steep slopes and on level ground. Similarly employed, these pleasing—and very clean—shrubs furnish effective entrance-way specimen plantings, either at doorsteps or alongside driveways.

The California Association of Nurserymen points out that landscape architects assign varied tasks to these versatile prostrate junipers because of their many distinctive and unusual forms plus their willingness to thrive even in poor soil.

ROOF-TOP gardeners also make valuable use of prostrate junipers, for they are shallow-rooted plants, ideal for shallow planting boxes.

Dwarf creeping junipers (juniperus horizontalis procumbens) are welcome additions to California rock gardens. Color-wise, their bluish-green and bluish-gray colors provide eye-catching contrast to vari-colored rocks.

For a low-slung accent around swimming pools, the creeping junipers are an ideal selection. Planted separately or in rows, these bushy, spreading forms and deep colors provide elegant contrast to the shimmering water surface.

August and September are good months to select young prostrate junipers from containers at your local nursery, and incorporate them in your own landscaping scheme. They are remarkably easy to plant and care for, and guarantee years of satisfaction.

AFTER transferring the plants to your own garden, they should be kept damp while adjusting themselves to new soil environment. They will appreciate an application of manure when being set in. After this initial preparation, the evergreen juniper requires little attention from year to year.

Among the sprawling junipers, the most often used are Tamarix Juniper, Trailing Juniper and Waukegan Juniper. The blue-green Tamarix Juniper (juniperus sabina tamariscifolia) is slightly taller than the common creeper, and this makes it especially desirable for specimen planting along walks, as well as other uses mentioned above.

Trailing Juniper, known both as juniperus chinensis prostrata and juniperus horizontalis, provides a mat of blue-gray foliage, usually less than 18 inches high. This variety provides an exceptionally fine ground cover.

Color is the particularly distinguishing feature of the Waukegan Juniper. For most of the year this handsome shrub is a soft metallic blue, but in the fall it changes to a brilliant purple blue.

SOME OTHER types of Common Juniper are similar to those prostrate forms. For example, the low juniperus communis depressa, distinguished by golden-tipped branches, serves many of the purposes of the prostrate forms, adding a colorful touch to the landscape.

The grayish Pfizer Juniper (j. chinensis pfizeriana) is not actually a true prostrate shrub either, but because it often lacks a central leader, it may also serve the many uses of the prostrate forms. This Pfizer Juniper is also available as a more Compact Pfizer and a Blue Pfizer for increased garden diversity.

Junipers may be successfully grown in rocky or dry soil areas, but they thrive best in sandy or loamy soils kept slightly moist. Most parts of California can benefit from the beauty of these shrubs, and your local nurseryman will aid in selecting the most apt varieties.
